

Binary and ternary ratios introduced by participant by condition

Negative values mean a general reduction of binary or ternary ratios from stimulus to response

